

1 New words

Deum God. Deus is God when acting as the subject in a sentence. Deum is God when acting as the object in a sentence. It's like the difference between he and him in English.

de Deo from God.

lumen light.

de lumine from light.

genitum begotten. Remember earlier we saw unigenitum = only-begotten.

non factum not made consubstantialem consubstantial - of one substance. The early Church Councils were combatting a heresy based on subtle distinctions about the Trinity and the incarnation of Jesus. Words like substance, nature and person are used to clarify the oneness of God, the threeness of Persons and how Jesus can be both God and Man in one Person. We call these truths mysteries, not because they make no sense, but because we can always learn more about them. They are bottomless wells of truth.

Patri to the Father

per quem by whom.

omnia all things - feminine this time. In part 1 we had omnium which another form of this word for all. In part 2 it appeared in omnia saecula = all ages.

facta sunt made were - or were made to use English word order. Remember back to factorem = maker.

Credo in unum Deum, Patrem omnipotentem, factorem caeli et terrae, visibilium omnium et invisibilium.

Et in unum Dominum Jesum Christum, Filium Dei unigenitum.

Et ex Patre natum, ante omnia saecula.

Deum de Deo.

Lumen de lumine.

Deum verum de Deo vero.

Genitum non factum, consubstantialem Patri, per quem omnia facta sunt.
